

THE FUTURE OF OUR COASTS WILL BE DETERMINED IN BODRUM

INVESTATE'08 will take place at the Bodrum Princess Hotel, on 24-25 May 2008, with the aim of establishing long term relations between the stakeholders and decision makers of the sector, as well as hosting parallel conferences and seminars to discuss the future of our coasts.

İkon Events and Akın Nalça Modular Spaces are organizing the Investate '08 Meeting in Bodrum in order to bring together investors, prospective buyers and local administrations as well as all the stakeholders of the real estate sector who are mostly interested in developing projects in Istanbul and on the coastline of Turkey, with Bodrum being one of its most popular resorts .

Bodrum, one of the most fashionable resort towns for world tourism and holiday homes, is going to host the first INVESTATE'08 meeting this year.

The INVESTATE'08 meeting will bring together many visitors interested in the real estate sector and will offer them the possibility of meeting in a sophisticated, elegant and stylish office environment without any additional expenses.

Delegates will have the opportunity to examine new projects and participate in parallel conferences and seminars organized on 24-25 May, to discuss the future of our coasts, environmental problems, cultural heritage, the historic and architectural fabric of the regions, as well as some problems faced by local administrations and investors.

INVESTATE'08 is aiming to create awareness among the local populations, investors and stakeholders and to bring together foreign and Turkish real estate investors and developers in order to design a road map for common action.

INVESTATE '08 will provide participants with the opportunity of meeting all the main stakeholders and actors of various sectors, ranging from local administrations to contractors, in a pleasant and enjoyable atmosphere, over the week-end.
