

RENOWNED ARCHITECT MICHAEL SORKIN WILL BE AT
THE INVESTATE '08 TURKISH COASTS REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT
MEETING IN BODRUM on MAY 24 -25, 2008

Bodrum, one of the most important destinations of world tourism, will be hosting a very important event at the end of May. IKON Events and Akın Nalça Modular Spaces will be organising INVESTATE '08 at Bodrum Princess Hotel where all present and future investors in Turkish coasts, buyers, representatives of local governments and those interested in the development of real estate and tourism will be brought together.

INVESTATE '08 Conference participants will be joined by Mr. Ertuğrul Günay, Minister of Tourism, Mayor of Bodrum and mayors of small municipalities linked to Bodrum, as well as university members and bureaucrats.

The keynote speaker of the Conference will be world-famous Architect Michael Sorkin, Chairman of the Department of Urban Design, New York University. At the 22nd Congress of World Architecture in Istanbul, Sorkin attracted attention with his speech prescribing the prevention of the further growth of Istanbul if the city's urban problems were to be solved.

INVESTATE '08 Turkish Coasts Real Estate Investment Meeting will not only host this important conference but also create a unique platform to introduce projects to investors. Participants will enjoy their own elegant presentation areas where they will meet with visitors. In the general exhibition area they will receive attentive and outstanding service, from lighting to branding, for all their needs.

INVESTATE '08 Turkish Coasts Real Estate Investment Meeting plans to create awareness among the locals of the chosen venues and those interested in the sector, as well as to develop a participatory model for investors investing in the Turkish coasts. To this end INVESTATE '08 Turkish Coasts Real Estate Investment Meeting plans to annually hold the coming events in different locations.
